

Andreas Vevera

On one hand Andreas Vevera is the best handicapped table tennis player of the world and on the other hand he is one of the most reliable and blitheful school secretary from Hans-Radl-School.

Vevera, his wheelchair and his table tennis racket are going around the world to show their strong skills.

A real important part in his life is to work as a secretary in a special school for handicapped students, he is their big idol.

A hard way full of understanding, acceptance and fate formed a great world and Olympia champion.

Since he was once the best soccer player in his team, since he had to learn that a new part of his life began after an awful accident and since he had to relearn to control his body he never ended to fight and believe.

With the important aid from his family, friends and doctors he got the possibility to arrange something special, a filled wonderful life.

Patience, calm and will are the cadre to his unbelievable success.

Accept your life situation and do the best with it, never let your dreams fall and continue your way.

An important thing to know is that everybody sometimes stumble over stones, you just don't have to mislead you.
